

Light in Darkness

History can teach us if we want to learn from it. If we are to learn from history we must know the facts of history. The books of the Second Enlightenment Trilogy inform us in facts of cosmic history, natural history and Western Christian history.

To be human is to be intentional creatures of light. Consciousness is a process of coming to the light, what is to say, to grow in knowledge and understanding — the premise of purposeful symbiosis and growth in wisdom, age and grace—evolving faith.

PRIMARY SCRIPTURE is about lessons of “first” scripture, the cosmos, nature, ourselves, God. QUANTUM RELIGION is about the good news of rising consciousness and affirmative living. RELIGION & CIVILITY gives us to understand that the virtues of religion are the same as the virtues of civil living.

We become better persons and better citizens when we understand the mistakes of the past and avoid repeating them in our personal lives. You can begin informing yourself in history’s lessons of religion and irreligion, of civility and incivility by taking up the joined study of Faith/ Evolution as presented in the three books of the Second Enlightenment.
